SUMMER CAMP WEEKLY THEMES

Week # 1 June 29-July 3

Space & Rockets

Blast off! This week campers will travel to new heights as they explore how and why we travel in space. In addition to learning about the satellites and ships we have invented they will have an opportunity to design, build and launch several types of rockets themselves. We will “tour” space up close as we visit the Northern Stars Planetarium dome and learn more about space exploration and travel.

Week # 2 July 6-10

Building and Construction

Campers will be engaged in many fun and exciting building challenges this week. They will have opportunities to investigate and implement ideas using a variety of materials to make many different structures. The room will be set up with LEGO blocks and LEGO friends, architectural building blocks, marble runs and KEVA plank sets. We will also take a field trip to explore and observe the building structure of Fort Knox. If weather and time permit, we will walk over to check out the Penobscot Narrows Bridge Observatory after exploring the fort.

Week # 3 July 13-17

Talk Show Week

This week is sure to be a lot of fun and laughter for campers as they create and film their own talk show. Campers will have the opportunity to write and conduct interviews with characters of their choice such as famous actors, musicians, etc. They will create and perform small skits of characters on the show as well as participate in some of those wacky games found on popular talk shows. It is sure to be a creative and hilarious time captured on film for campers to cherish for years to come.

Join us for this very popular week of camp. Campers will experiment with a new art material and get inspired viewing some artwork before packing up for a “plein air” session after lunch. Adventures may include collecting, pressing & printing plants from the yard, painting boats in the harbor, sketching colonial home, and making sand sculptures at Lincolnville Beach. We will check out the Gallery at Waterfall Arts for inspiration and create work there. We will end our week displaying our work in an art show format.
